MINES AND MINING

Items About Nevada's Leading Industry Clipped From Exchanges.

At the Bounce mine they are tunneling out from the bottom of the 800-foot shaft, now 200 feet in a seven-foot ledge of $14 ore, and are taking out about five tons per day.—Hawthorne Bulletin.

The mill at Silver Star is running steadily and that camp is all right.

The Beigle & Jackson cyanide plant is finished and in running order.

The Hooton mine in Hooton valley, forty miles south of Hawthorne, was recently bonded for $120,000 and prospecting work begun. A few days ago a rich ledge was uncovered and the sale will now be consummated, but the owners would just as soon have the bond lapse. A big boom will result for the new district.

Troubles of a Minister.

To benefit others Rev. J. T. W. Vernon, of Hartwell, Ga., writes: "For a long time I had a running sore on my leg. I tried many remedies without benefit, until I used a bottle of Electric Blisters and a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve which cured me sound and well." Sore, Eruption, Boils, Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum show impure blood. Thousands have in Electric Blisters a grand blood purifier that absolutely cures these troubles. Satisfaction is guaranteed or money refunded. S. J. Hodgkinson. Large bottles only 50 cents.

It Dazzles the World.

No discovery in medicine has ever created or quarter of the excitement that has been caused by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. Its severest tests have been on hopeless victims of Consumption, Pneumonia, Hemorrhage, Pleurisy and Bronchitis, thousands of whom it has restored to perfect health. For Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Hay Fever, Hoarseness and Hooping Cough it is the quickest, surest cure in the world. It is sold by S. J. Hodgkinson, who guarantees satisfaction or refund money. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

A Decided Opposition.

On one occasion, says the Chicago Inter Ocean, when Booker T. Washington was in Chicago, he stopped for a day in one of the hotels. He was pointed out to William, an old waiter, who had been in the hotel for a long time. William was delighted to get a glimpse of the great man of his race and was never tired of telling about it after that. One of the regular boarders is a staunch friend of William and a liberal "tipper."

"William," said the boarder next morning, putting on a serious face, "I met Mr. Washington yesterday, and I asked him what he thought of 'tipping.' He is opposed to it."

The boarder stood with his hand hesitatingly in his change pocket. William's face fell and settled into despairing gloom.

"Well, boss," the waiter said, shaking his head emphatically, "if that is the position of Mistah Washington I's unambiguously opposed to it."

Took No Chances.

Samuel Clough, who edited The New England Almanac at the very beginning of the eighteenth century, was a good example of a prophet who intends to make no mistakes.

"Perhaps," says he, predicting the weather from Jan. 15 to the 22d, 1702, "it will be very cold weather if it freeze by the fireside or on the sunny side of a fence at noon."

In April he hazards: "Perhaps wet weather if it rains. Now fair weather if the sun shines. Windy or calm."

And in July he ventures a small advertisement for the town of his residence:

If now the weather do prove fair, People to Cambridge do repair.

The Voice in High Altitudes.

Generally speaking, races living at high altitudes have weaker and more highly pitched voices than those living in regions where the supply of oxygen is more plentiful. Thus, in this country, among the Indians living on the plateaus, between the ranges of the Andes, at an elevation of from 10,000 to 14,000 feet, the men have voices like the women and the women like the children, and their singing is a shrill monotone.

The Effect.

Poppinjay—What did your father say when he saw me kissing you in the hall last night? Was he very angry?

Melissa Ann—Oh, no; pa wasn't mad a bit. It only made him sick, so he told me.—Boston Transcript.

Tommy Atkins Buys His Coffin.

When Tommy Atkins arrives in India, he has one rupee per month stopped out of his pay until 15 rupees have been collected for a coffin. This 15 rupees is invested in the regimental soda water machine, and should he die the machine provides him with a coffin and buries him decently, but should he survive when he leaves India he receives back his 15 rupees and his share of the profits of soda water.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

PURSUANT TO RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED by the Democratic State Central Committee April 15th, 1900, a Democratic State Convention was called to meet at Virginia City on Thursday, September 6, 1900.

At 1 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of nominating three Presidential Electors; three alternate; one Member of Congress; one Judge of the Supreme Court; two Members of the Board of Regents of the State University. Under the standard of popular mass election by the State Central Committee, the different counties are entitled to delegates as follows:

Thursday, September 6, 1900.

Was designated for the holding of primaries, or otherwise selecting the delegates from the different counties. It was further provided, that wherever considered feasible and practicable, the election of delegates should be by primary. When not so considered by the Democratic State Central Committee, such committees should name the delegates from their respective counties, and in such counties as have no Democratic Central Committee, the local members of the Democratic State Central Committee shall either call primaries or themselves select the delegates from their respective counties.

The test for voters at the primaries and for delegates is as follows: I favor the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and I will vote for the nominees of the Democratic State Central Committee.

JOHN H. DENNIS, Chairman.

The United States government has had several agents of late in this State purchasing horses. It is said that prices in the last week or two have almost doubled. Several thousand head were sold up in Elko county at about thirty dollars a head, but the price is much higher now.

Excursion and Picnic.

Next Sunday a grand excursion and picnic will be given by Donner Parlor No. 162, N. & G. W., at Lake Tahoe. Return tickets, including admission to dances, will be sold from Truckee for $1.50. Cheap rates on the C. P. & R. R. Music will be furnished by the Overton band. Mr. Bliss has erected a pavilion 40x100 feet over the edge of the lake. Boat races, games and amusements. Everybody invited.

Give Him A Call.

W. J. Lynch, one of the best known tenors in the State, is now cozyly ensconced in the Monarch shaving parlor. He will conduct this establishment in a manner that will please his patrons.

"My baby was terribly sick with the diarrhoea," says J. H. Cook, of Williams, Oregon. "We were unable to cure him with the doctor's assistance, and as a last resort we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I am happy to say it gave immediate relief and a complete cure." For sale by W. Webster & Son.

SILVER PARTY STATE CONVENTION

RESOLUTIONS OF THE STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF THE SILVER PARTY.

At a MEETING OF THE STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF THE SILVER PARTY of Nevada, held at Reno, Nevada, on April 15, 1900, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the commemoration of the Democratic State Central Committee is regarded as a festival, to be met with favor by the body, and that a Committee be appointed to confer with a like committee from that body to arrange that both conventions meet at the same time and place, and that the final question of fusion be left with the conventions.

In compliance with the above resolution the acting chairman of the State Central Committee appointed such committee, and in due time the following report was filed:

To the Chairman and Secretary of the Silver Party State Central Committee—We, your Committee on Conference hereby report as follows: We met a like committee from the State Central Committee of the Democratic party, and have agreed with the said Committee, that the TENDENCY TO IMPERIALISM.

A tendency to imperialism is upon the face of all proceedings of a public or of a private nature with which trusts and monopolies are identified. The trend of public and private affairs with which either of these departments are connected is to develop monopolistic sentiment, and to suppress republican convictions and theories. The means used to propagate the political heresy do not consist of direct attacks upon democratic principles. The assault partakes more of the nature of the means used by bosses. The chief work of the boss element has been the destruction of the better and moral sentiment there was in politics. When the moral sentiment there should be in politics is destroyed, the country is no more in a position to sustain a political standard necessary to the protection of free institutions in a government dependent upon the will of the people for its existence and perpetuation.

A standard of right sustained by a moral political conviction is as necessary to maintain the integrity of the republic as it is necessary to sustain and keep active an upright system of dealing by individuals with each other. An individual devoid of moral convictions will not be trusted by those who know his character. Deprive a community of a moral sense necessary to upright proceeding in public or in private matters and it is unfit for use by decent people and it is avoided by citizens who possess the self respect required to maintain the dignity of a moral character. Do not entertain for a moment a thought that there is a difference in individuals or in small communities and the State or the United States, except in degree respecting moral influences.

Individuals make communities; States are composed of communities, and the United States is made up of a combination of States for governing purposes. The moral standard of the individual citizen provides a moral standard for the primary election, which continues its influence in its ascent to the higher departments of government. Corrupting influences at the primary continue, as it is the fountain of work in government in our political economy to the highest departments in the system. It is admitted that corrupt influences at a primary, or at a number of primaries, might not make any perceptible difference upon general government.

The number and magnitude of its sources are such that the purity of the great political stream would not be perceptibly affected or materially contaminated by impurities from a political brook in the form of a primary, or by impurities conveyed by a number of these brooks into the great stream; the supplies the political economy of the country, but a different condition will make an appearance when the larger number of sources that supply the stream become impure.

When a majority of the sources of supply that furnish the larger part of political economy to the main stream become foul, the purity of the main stream is effected. It becomes like its sources, full of impurities and poisons that make it dangerous to health and to the life of the body politic.

There is not anything connected with the political economy of the country that demands more or better thought by the people than the causes that have furnished the poisons to the sources of supply to the main political stream. Observation for a term including more time than there is in three decades has made a conclusion in the mind of the writer that the methods of bosses have been the chief impurities and poisons supplied to the sources of government.

These methods have made their appearance all over the land during the time mentioned and have been active for evil in all departments of the public service. The primary sources of government in politics have been poisoned by their impurities while the people slept upon their rights or were intimidated by threats made against their persons or against their volition as citizens. These men have been sewers for political filth containing all manner of poisons, which made foul the primary sources of the country's political economy, and after thirty years of work the republic is tottering at its foundation, while a large body of the people continue to sleep, or are intimidated by the methods of these men who are enemies of the republic. There is not a citizen who is directed by these men or by any of them who can truthfully claim he is a good citizen. A man, to be a good citizen, must be a patriot, and patriotism cannot live in the bosom of an enemy to his country. A man who is engaged in corrupting the political morals of the people or any part of them should not be heard saying that he loves his country or is a friend to republican institutions, as his work and his language would be in opposition to all rules of logic, not to mention common sense.

It is the duty of a boss to carry forward the methods used by his employers to execute their will. His employment in all instances comes from the known enemies of the people, who are the republic represented by their united will through the ballot. To control an honest expression by the people of their honest will is his business as directed by the source of his employment. Those who represent the source of his employment will use any means required to accomplish their object, for which cause any corrupting method will be employed by bosses and by those whom they direct, in methods peculiar to boss work. It required years to corrupt the United States in a manner necessary to control the government in all of its departments, but it has been accomplished to the imminent danger of republican government and free institutions.

Italians Have a Big Time.

There wasn't a single Italian left in town Sunday—the whole concourse of sons and daughters of sunny Italy betook themselves to Poor's grove.

In the good old country fashion the merry throng sped the day right gayly. The dancing platform cracked all day and a good part of the night under the flying feet of those who indulged in the dance.

Games so dear to every Italian kept others in happy spirits—and spirits of another variety enlivened the reveler-up to a point where everybody is everybody else's friend.

Numbers of spectators—not Italians—look in the barbeque, and some of them could not resist the temptation, but got in and, strictly speaking, did as Rome did.

HE ROUSED JEFFERSON.

Why the Hotel Porter Waked Jefferson From His Sleep.

Veslie's Weekly tells this story about Joseph Jefferson: A number of years ago he played a one night engagement in a small Indiana town, appearing in his favorite part of Rip Van Winkle. In the hotel at which he stopped was an Irishman "recently landed," who acted as porter and general assistant. Judged by the deep and serious interest which he took in the house, he might have been clerk, lessee and proprietor, rolled into one.

At about 6 o'clock in the morning Mr. Jefferson was startled by a violent thumping on his door. When he struggled into consciousness and realized that he had left no "call" order at the office, he was naturally indignant. But his sleep was spoiled for that morning, so he arose, and soon after appeared before the clerk. "See here," he demanded of that individual, "why was I called at this unearthly hour?" "I don't know, sir," answered the clerk. "I'll ask Mike."

The Irishman was summoned. Said the clerk: "Mike, there was no call for Mr. Jefferson. Why did you disturb him?"

Taking the clerk by the lapel of the coat, the Irishman led him to one side and said, in a mysterious whisper: "He were shuorling like a horse, sor, and O'd heed the b's say as how he were onet atther shuorling fur twenty years, so O' sez to meself, sez Oi, 'Monke, it's a coming onto him ag'in, and it's yer duty to git the crajther out o' yer house instantly!"

THE AIR WE BREATHE.

An Average of One Cubic Foot Consumed Every Two Minutes. "Man wants but little here below" is an axiom which applies markedly to the quantity of air which is necessary to support life. It is estimated that when a man is at rest he consumes 300 cubic inches of air every minute, an allowance which at the first glance appears large.

It is, however, absurdly small when we consider that at this rate of consumption it would take a man 5 days and 9½ hours to exhaust the air in a small room 15 feet square and 10 feet high.

Any form of exertion, however, greatly increases the consumption of air. Thus if we saunter at two miles an hour we require just twice as much air as when sitting in our armchair, and at four miles an hour nothing less than 2,300 cubic inches will satisfy us.

Taking an average consumption throughout life of one cubic foot of air every two minutes, we reach some very interesting conclusions. Thus an hour's supply of air could be contained in a trunk 5 feet long, 3 feet wide and 2 feet deep.

In a day we should exhaust a small roomful, 10 feet long, 7 feet wide and 10 feet high.

For a year's supply we should require a reservoir or hall 100 feet square and a shade over 26 feet high, and the supply for a long life of 80 years would be contained in a large hall 1,000 feet long, 500 feet wide and 42 feet high.

Cavalry Horses
Being Purchased.

Nevada has furnished a generous quota of horses for Uncle Sam's troopers.

Sunday there was a band of nearly two hundred rested and fed at the stock yards. The prices paid by the government are fairly good, but the horses must come up to a standard that embraces many fine qualities.

From thirty to eighty dollars—sometimes higher—is the recompense allowed by the purchasing agents.

Instead of resuming the old-time practice of shooting range horses for their hides it would be a paying venture for a hustling Westerner to buy up a tract of land and start a horse ranch.

The demand is pressing and will be so for years to come, as the recent war has resulted in a rapidly diminishing supply of the noble chargers.

It is estimated that upwards of 10,000 horses were shipped from Nevada and Utah within the last two years.

Death of John Frieberg.

John Frieberg, well known in Reno, died at San Francisco yesterday of typhoid fever which he contracted a month ago at Winnemucca. Mr. Frieberg was taken to the Southern Pacific R. R. hospital in San Francisco at which place he succumbed to the dread disease.

Mr. Frieberg was a young man, 31 years of age, capable and trusty. For several years he lived on the N. O. Co., and was later promoted to engineer on the same road. He has been employed by the S. P. company for the past five years as engineer.

His body will be brought here today and the funeral services held either today or tomorrow.

A Useful Book.

No business man in Reno can afford to be without a copy of the directory about to be published, as it will contain a vast amount of useful information, the most important being the name, occupation and house number of all residents over eighteen years of age; also a complete classified business directory, street directory, fraternal society, church, postoffice, fire department directories and lots of other useful information.

It will be a valuable advertising medium for Reno to send to your friends all over the United States, as it will show all the natural advantages of Reno and Washoe county, as the publishers have decided to devote several pages descriptive of Reno and the country. So every dollar spent in advertising and subscribing for the Reno directory will be well spent.

The medals awarded by the Agricultural Society to John Sparks and Mr. Marzen are on exhibition in the display windows of Herz Bros. and Will Doane.

The medals are things of beauty and being fourteen in number make a fine showing. Mr. Sparks and Mr. Marzen have gained widespread fame through their blooded cattle, and to the white faced Herefords the majority of prizes are awarded. Mr. Marzen makes a specialty of the Durham stock.

One medal cast by Mr. Herz is a token of appreciation from the Society to Mr. Sparks for his liberal donation of the cash prizes taken by his exhibit of Herefords in '98. Mr. Sparks has accomplished a great deal for Nevada in the last five years by untiring efforts in bringing the sage-brush state to the front as a cattle producing district.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1900.

BRYAN AS A PREACHER.

William Jennings Bryan appears to be a genius when his way of doing things is taken into connection with his life and character. He is a politician to-day, and may be a preacher of righteousness to-morrow. There was published in Sunday's Examiner a sermon made by that Christian statesman, wherein there is a review of some of the things of Mammon, which are not as commendable as they might be under a noontide sun, at the close of the nineteenth century. He is original in his methods when he is preaching, and seems not to be over particular about the work he takes his text from. The text to the sermon preached to which reference is made will be found in work by the Standard Oil Company.

The words contain ideals of the preacher respecting subject matter included in the text. The words represent a principle in nature in material things, and they also represent a principle ascertained by the experiential and observation of men in things not material which are included in the thoughts and doings of the mind. The words of the text are "Standard Oil and the Water of Life will not mix."

The text is absolutely true as ascertained by every test applied in the affairs of life. From this truth, taken from the work of the Standard Oil Company, the preacher by comparison or illustration causes a stream of truth to flow that are applicable to present immoral standing of much there is in politics, as practiced by the chief supporters of the party in power. The sermon is a mixture of political and quotations from the Bible. To illustrate he makes a quotation from McKinley's speech at Toledo, Ohio, in 1891, when speaking of Cleveland's hostility to silver, which is in the following language: "He has determined to contract the circulating medium and demonize one of the coins of commerce, limit the volume of money among the people, make money scarce and therefore dear. He would have increased the volume of money and debauched the value of every thing else. Money, the master, everything else the servant."

Then follows a quotation from the teachings of Christ: "In the parable of the sower Christ taught that the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches choke the truth." There is not any question about the truth contained in McKinley's speech at Toledo, Ohio, being "choked to death" in McKinley by the money power. The deceitfulness of riches has swallowed the Methodist McKinley and Presbyterian Bryan is going after his back sliding brother in a way that is conclusive of the truth there is included in the quotation given.

The JOURNAL has an abiding faith in the sort of fight there is on between Bryan and McKinley when the Bible is taken into the ring. McKinley must betake himself to the stool of repentance as the deceitfulness of riches has choked any truth there was in him upon the silver question and upon all other questions in which there is anything good. There is no truth remaining in the man as he is now a servant of the father of liars who is largely represented by the combined monied interests and trusts.

Bryan has struck the key note to the undoing of McKinley since he has taken to quoting the words and teachings of Christ. There is an abundance of truth in the text taken by Bryan Standard Oil and the water of life will not mix to give McKinley his true position before the world as it is well known that McKinley is largely relying upon standard oil at the present time. The deceitfulness of standard oil riches having taken full possession of the man there is no room in him for the water of life but that will not cause him any trouble at present since he has become a servant to Mammon which is another name for the father of untruth.

There is no need that requires quotations by Bryan from the Good Old Book as he can take it and make one grand, or universal quotation by reading the first line of the first chapter of Genesis and then turn to and read the last line of the last chapter of Revelations and say all there is included in the lines read and between them is cited against McKinley and against his work and against the work of monopolies and trusts which is the work of McKinley and the Republican party. Justice and truth have departed from the land because of iniquities of those fostered to procure the oppression of the poor and the robbery of honest labor of means acquired to procure a living to build colossal fortunes for Standard Oil and other monopolies and trusts.

THE KING IS DEAD; LONG LIVE THE KING.

The ruler of the pale horse is no respecter of persons. The king and the pauper are alike to him who bears the scepter of time, as all must go down before the reaper according to an invariable law in nature. "Dust thou art and unto dust thou shalt return," proclaimed by all there is material in nature, and man, the highest order of creation, is not an exception to the universal rule of dust to dust. Men live in their spheres of usefulness; it is understood by them, and life is devoted to the work which nature has fitted them for—if so it be that no mistakes are made in the choice of occupation.

C. P. Huntington seems to have been adapted to the undertaking; the larger part of an individual's life has been given to carry forward. Under other circumstances than have been present he would have failed. Times and conditions that have been upon the country were favorable to his ambition, and he used his surroundings and opportunities in a way to further his personal interests and satisfy, as near as it was possible to do so, his personal desire. This is not a time to make a review of his mistakes, when the interests of others than his own are involved.

It is sufficient to say that he made the best use of the opportunities he was given for the accomplishment of the ends he had in view, not allowing any obstacle to remain in his way which could be removed by means subject to his control. The people of Nevada will wait, as political conditions are, till they learn about their future from his successor. The man who succeeds to the kingdom of Huntington may be a man who knows not God or believes in a hereafter; but it will make very small difference to the people respecting that matter. As conditions are the loaves they carry will not be largely increased, as the last straw is within reach when it is required for use.

Puppy Versus Bear.

The savagery of a bear being owing to J. J. Quinn broke loose last night and created a big sensation on Reno's quiet streets. The bear is equipped with an automatic jaw that adds a life-like appearance to the inanimate object.

A small black and white dog beheld the nodding head and working jaws of Brer Brin and straightway charged the bar. The automatic gear of the bear got out of joint and refused to rend the dog limb from limb. At last accounts the dog was making a dash for a nearby alley with brain intact.

A coal mine has been located near Dayton, Lyon county, and the indications are that a good coal deposit will be developed.

A consignment of gold bullion from the Dexter mine at Tiesarora was received at Salt Lake Saturday. It was valued at $15,000.

Ore from the Pioche mines is being hauled by team to Urada, the terminus of the Utah Pacific railroad, for shipment to Salt Lake.

An eighty-ton smelting furnace has been installed at Neeles, on the Colorado river, for handling the custom ore from Lincoln and Nye counties of this State, and San Bernardino county of California.

For the month of June the Logan and Holly mine, in Lyon county, turned out bullion to the amount of $7,000, and for the month of July it is reported that the clean-up amounted to about $8,000.

THE TAX LIST.

The names of the taxpayers and the total valuation upon which they pay taxes appearing on the assessment roll of the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, for the year 1900.

Met Little Opposition.

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—News from Russian Commander says the advance of the allies beyond Yang Tsun met little opposition. The Chinese fought for an hour and a half and then fled. It is believed Peking will be reached today. Messages were received today from the British and American Ministers at Peking but they will not be made public.

Huntington Dies Suddenly.

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Collis P. Huntington died at midnight Monday at his country place at Raquette Lake in the Adirondack mountains. He was a victim of heart disease and was ill only ten minutes. His wealth is variously estimated at from twenty to eighty millions.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you got the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A Social Organization.

Last evening about twenty young men of Reno met and organized the I. X. L. Club. This club is organized for the purpose of sociability of its members, and their object is to show that they can and will excel all others, by their gentlemanly action, as entertainers.
Look out for the first entertainment of the I. X. L. Club.

THE COMING
STATE FAIR

From Present Indications It Will be the Best Ever Held in Nevada.

The State Agricultural Society is making good progress in matters pertaining to the State fair, which will be held from the 17th to the 23d of September.

Bills and highly colored posters now adorn conspicuous fences and buildings. A good sum has already been subscribed, and with the support of the people no possible impediment can prevent this year's fair being the "best yet."

One of the leading attractions will be the great relay race between the Olympics of San Francisco and our own crack team. The local riders began training yesterday, and their bicycles spin at a pace which promises the visitors a hairy race that will "bust" anything on record.

It should also be remembered that the directors are taking steps to make the pavilion display a grand success. Everyone who has anything to put on exhibition should come forward and help make the old pavilion look like it did several years ago. From present indications the mineral and agricultural exhibits will excel anything before seen in the State in this line.

SOME LIBERAL CONTRIBUTIONS.

Henry Riter and W. H. McInnis have been taking subscriptions for the State Fair, and will continue the good work until enough has been raised to insure its success. The following are the contributions thus far:

Miss Kate Schmitz, who has been the guest of Miss Vera Novacovich, leaves to-day for Carson.

Mrs. C. E. Datcher leaves to-day for San Francisco to reside permanently. Reno loses a sweet singer thereby.

James and Elmer McClellan, who have been dangerously ill with typhoid, are improving rapidly and will soon be entirely well.

SOME WASHOE
COUNTY MINES.

Prospectors Are Still Putting Paper on Promising
Claims,

The records show that Reno's citizens have time to look about them and invest their spare funds in mining propositions.

The county recorder never had a busier season than this one. Every day enthusiastic parties rush in the office to record one or more rattling good locations recently made. The list of claims filed and recorded during '99 and '00 fills three large volumes and still there is no abatement in the rash of prospectors.

A glance at the following records will give one a fair idea of the average locator. In this collection we behold the names of merchants, farmers, capitalists and working men, each one equally positive as to the excellence of his particular claim.

Peavine, Wedekind and Lemons districts are attracting a fair average of prospectors, and "digging" may be discovered most any old place at these districts. The positive and indisputable fact of the new smelter's existence has encouraged the mine owners to push developments on their claims and henceforth Reno will be characterized as a busy, thriving mining center.

Some of the recently recorded claims are herewith published:

Aug. 1—Lake View extension, near Tahoe meadows, by B. F. Lee

Aug. 6—Walker Mining Claim, Lemons' ranch, by D. R. Dickey.

Aug. 6—The Blue Jay mine, Peavine, D. Dickey et al.

Aug. 6—The Bald Eagle mine, Lemons' ranch, E. B. Richardson.

Aug. 8—Lake mine, Wedekind district, F. L. Flanigan.

Aug. 9—Shields mine. Same as above.

Aug. 9—Gael Mine. Same as above.

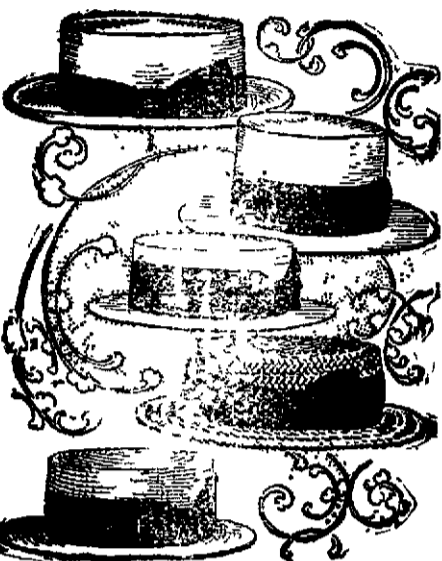

Aug. 9—Home mine. Same as above.

Aug. 9—Excelsior mine, Wedekind district, S. Emrich et al.

Aug. 9—Hustler mine, Wedekind district, H. D. Ramsey, et al.

Aug. 9—Kentucky mine. Same as above.

Aug. 9—Rambler claim, Wedekind district, J. H. Gault et al.

Many Things
Are Meant

By many dealers who claim to handle groceries. When they advertise GOOD GROCERIES no mention is made of PRICE. When price is mentioned QUALITY IS OVERLOOKED. Again, sometimes they dwell on the virtues of a LARGE STOCK. In this case no claim is made to carrying FRESH GOODS.

We Preach the Three Main Virtues of Groceries—

Quality
Quantity
Price

They are mentioned in their regular order and the happy combination is causing hosts of pleased patrons at our store.
